Bowdoin Place is part of the 100 Cambridge Street complex which includes 700,000-square feet of office, retail and residential space. Renovated in 2004 to upgrade the office building, the project also featured construction of 75 luxury apartments in downtown Boston.

DESIGN, Inc. was chosen to provide environmental graphic design services for both office building and residences. The signage for Bowdoin Place required sophisticated design and high-end finishes.
